

Sensi Koshin Paley Ellison and Sensi Robert Chodo Campbell, Co-Founders of NYZCCC , teach, conduct workshops and lecture widely on contemplative approaches to end-of-life care.

Paley Ellison is a visiting professor at McGovern Center for Humanities and Ethics at the University of Texas/Houston Medical School and has also lectured at Harvard Divinity

School, Union Theological Seminary, Naropa University and given keynote addresses at National Hospice and Palliative Care Symposium, Association of Clinical Pastoral Education and the Integrative Healthcare Symposium.

Paley Ellison and Campbell hold faculty positions at the University of Arizona Medical School's Center for Integrative Medicine's Integrative Medicine Fellowship and have presented workshops and lectures at Alzheimer's Resource Center, Integrative Healthcare Organization, Institute for Family Health, Maimonides Medical Center, Mont Sinai/Beth Israel, National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization, OMEGA Institute, Overlook School of Medicine, Phelps Memorial Hospital Center and South Hampton Hospital.

Koshin and Chodo are charismatic, engaging speakers and teachers and are available for workshops and lectures. Please contact Carmine Branagan at 212.667.1087 Ext. 4.